NAVY WINS OUT OVER G. W. TEAM

Bracklow and Chesney Score for George Washington—Loehler Railroaded Out of Game.

Displaying a well-balanced, fast passing and accurate shooting team, the Navy five downed the Hatchettes, 43-9, in a game played on Washington's Birthday, February 22, in the Naval Academy armory.

The Navy counted first from the 15-foot line and then Ault captured two baskets, rapidly followed by two pointers from Parr, Byerly and Barnes. About this time the referee discovered that among other good G. W. players was one John Loehler, who was consistently outjumping, outpassing and outplaying his opponent, and so, in consequence thereof, our center was made the object of personal fouls until he was railroaded out of the game before the first half was ended. The first and only basket scored by the Hatchettes in this period was made by Bracklow. A foul shot by Spears and two by Boteler completed the half for the locals, bringing their total to 5 points, while the Navy had accumulated 24 points in the same length of time.

In the second half the honor for getting a basket for G. W. fell to Chesney, who had been substituted for Bracklow, while Spears got 2 points through the free throwing method, bringing the total of tallies scored to nine. The future Admirals presented a clever passing and accurate shooting combination, which netted them eight baskets in this period. Byerly and Ault were the chief contenders for caging honors, each gathering 5 apiece. If the Navy boys put up the same brand of basketball next Saturday, February 25, the Army players had better look out for their laurels. Line-up and summary:

G. W.	Position.	Navy.
Bracklow	L. F.	Byerly
Spears	R. F.	Barnes
Loehler	C.	Ault
Boteler	L. G.	Watters
Altrup	R. G.	Parr

Substitutions: Chesney for Spears, Springston for Bracklow, Spears for Chesney, Chesney for Loehler, Eisinger for Altrup, Lenhart for Barnes, Blue for Byerly, Greiber for Ault, Dickens for Greiber, Greene for Dickens, Lyons for Watters. Field goals—Bracklow, Chesney, Ault (5), Byerly (5), Lenhart (2), Blue (2), Barnes (2), Parr, Watters. Goals from foul—Spears, 3 in 4; Boteler, 2 in 5; Watters, 7 in 12. Referee—Law. Umpire—Bowen.

Loses to Georgetown.

In a fast, exciting game played at the Central Coliseum Saturday night, February 19, Georgetown proved itself the best combination when it took the Buff and Blue into camp by the score of 25-18. This is the Hilltoppers' second win over the Buff and Blue, as they captured the first game last month on their own floor, 26-19.

The Hilltoppers started the scoring and succeeded in getting a lead of 5 points before G. W. tallied. Spears then put one through the hoop and started G. W. on a stride which in the next few minutes of play put the Buff and Blue in the lead with the score of 4-5. However, the boys from across the creek soon took the lead again and kept it for the rest of the game.

Starting the second half with the score 15-12 in their favor, the Georgetown lads came back strong and when the final whistle blew the score was 25-18.

Every G. W. man that played in the game deserves credit for keeping the Hilltoppers from gathering more points than they did. Coming from a college where they have a gym of their own and men on the team who have everything at their disposal to keep their physical condition excellent, they soon tired out the young lads on the G. W. team.

FRANCE PRESENTS G. W. CANNON FROM VERDUN

University Accepts Captured Gun For Memorial to Students Who Fought in War.

A German 77-millimeter light field gun was presented by the Government of France to George Washington University at 5:30 Saturday afternoon, February 19, in the yard in the rear of 2023 G Street.

Gen. Collardet, military attache of the French embassy here, made the presentation speech, and President William Miller Collier, on behalf of the University, accepted the gift, which is to serve as a memorial to the valor of the George Washington students who participated in the great war and as an incentive to patriotism in future generations.

Gen. Collardet, in his speech, declared that it was especially fitting that a university bearing the name of Gen. Washington, who was the first supreme commander of a Franco-American army, should receive this souvenir of a great battle which stopped the sweep of the Germans on Paris.

"The Germans," he said, "would not have dared to start the war, if France and Belgium had been fully prepared, and this trophy should serve as a reminder of the necessity of preparation even for the most pacific of nations."

In accepting the gun, President Collier said that it would not only serve as a reminder of the necessity of preparation, but as a memorial to the sacred dead of both the French and American armies. He closed with a high tribute to the French ideal of liberty, equality and fraternity.

The gun, which rests in the back yard at 2023 G Street, is just as captured by the French Zouave regiment from the Prussians near Doumont on the Verdun front in the great battle in which 55,000 of the gallant French defenders were killed.

JUNIOR PLAY FINAL EVENT OF CENTENNIAL

To Be Given at Central High School
Auditorium on Monday Night;
Cast Well Trained.

The last feature of the University's Centennial celebration will take place next Monday night when the Junior Class will present Clyde Fitch's four-act comedy, "The Truth," at the Central High School, Thirteenth and Clifton Streets, at 8:15 p. m. The play marks the close of the ten days' celebration in commemoration of the school's hundred years of existence.

Rehearsals have been held almost every night the past week, and the director of the play reports favorable progress. The cast is working smoothly and promises to put on a finished performance. The members of the cast have all had previous experience, some of them having been on the professional stage. This experience has come in handy in working up the presentation of the play.

The story of the play is the age-old tale of the girl who could not—or would not—tell the truth. Becky, the girl, is ordinarily a sweet, demure young thing, who loves hubby much, but who has such an inherent love of fibbing that she gets into a terrible mess. She tries to reconcile Eve, a jealous woman, to her husband, Lindon, a society rake and man-about-town, by vamping the latter and then by lavishing on him tales of "home, sweet home," and "pappa love mamma."

Strange to say, it doesn't work, and Eve goes to Warder, Becky's hubby, with wild tales of his wife's tricks. Now, Warder is a hard-headed guy, who has inherent confidence in Becky, and for a long time he refuses to believe them. But the showdown comes, and Warder, perfectly furious, leaves his New York home for Boston. Becky, broken-hearted, beats it to Baltimore to stay with a papa she has living there.

Papa is a broken-down old sport, who is boarding with one Mrs. Crespigny, a landlady with social aspirations. Becky's arrival puts a decided crimp in papa's plans, and only after a heart-rending scene, with sadness and confessions, does he consent to let her stay. Papa is a crafty old bird, and somewhat of a reader of human nature. So he sends for Warder with a wicked, lying telegram, and Warder comes hot-foot to find wife dying, as the wire said.

But wife is not dying, and she con-

Basketball Awards

Seven basketball men have played the required number of games and have been recommended for reward of the school letter. These men are Charles Boteler, captain of this year's squad; John Daily, Bailey Springston, John Loehler, Eskew, Spears, Willard Bracklow and Manager Tex Nall.

According to the rules, the players must participate in three-fifths of the games played by the University team. This year's squad played 14 games, thus the above-named men have played in at least 9 games.

The leader of next year's squad will be elected by the letter men in the near future.

LARGE NUMBER PRESENT AT JUNIOR RECEPTION

Speeches, Songs and Dancing Entertained Over 750 Students, Faculty, Alumni and Friends Present.

The first event in the celebration of Junior Week, the reception tendered the University by the Junior Class on February 21 at 5 o'clock, was in every way a marked success. The reception was held in the ballroom of the Raleigh Hotel. More than 750 students, members of the faculty and friends were present during the course of the reception. From 4 to 7 the Juniors were busy extending the glad hand to the constant stream of arrivals.

An address was made by Prof. Croissant. The Glee Club gave several selections, which added to the fullness of the occasion.

The reception was divided into what might be termed three parts, for first there was dancing, then music and a short address, and then more dancing. The Glee Club rendered "Kentucky Babe" and Buck's arrangement of "Annie Laurie," which opened the more formal part of the reception. Mr. George A. Myers then gave two vocal selections. Prof. DeWitt Clinton Croissant, of Columbian College, gave an address in which he contrasted conditions as they now exist with those of the days when he was a student at George Washington. He spoke of the magnificent work of the faculty of those days in taking over the school and making it what it is today.

Dean and Mrs. Hodgkins, Dean and Mrs. Ferson, Dean and Mrs. Henning, Dean and Mrs. Borden, Dean Wilbur and Dean Ruediger were patrons for the reception and acted as a receiving line to assure all those who came a welcome to the festivities. President Collier and Secretary Kayser were unable to attend the reception, but sent their regrets to the committee in charge of the reception.

To the committee who made possible this very successful reception all credit is due. Howard H. Espey, the chairman of the committee, acted as master of ceremonies and was assisted in his duties pertaining to the reception by the other members of his committee, who were Hildred Eagan, Marion Holliday, Thomas E. Lodge, Robert Marshall and Robert Morgan, of the Law School; John D. Glass, Gladys Phoebe, Edward L. Scheuffer and Charles Schoffstall, of Columbian College; R. D. Campbell, Fearson Meeks, and Helen Romhilt, of the College of Engineering; Cora Guest and Bertha Lucas, of the Teachers' College, and J. W. Davis and John M. Gaines, of the Medical School.

ELWOOD TO ADDRESS ENGINEERS

NEW CONSTITUTION FOR G. W. STUDENT COUNCIL

Considers Plan of Erecting a Union
Building To Fulfill Urgent
Needs of University.

The Student Council, at its last meeting in Lisner Hall, Wednesday night, February 23, adopted a constitution and by-laws for the carrying on of its activities and for the better functioning of the workings of the council.

The action of the council in adopting such set of governing rules marks a forward step. It will be possible from now on for the Department of the Student Activities, under the direction of a Student Activities Director and Board of Managers, with the cooperation of the student governing body, to function normally and in the most efficient manner.

The new constitution directs the closer organization of the varied and widely spread activities in the University and strives to better the conditions that now attend their particular activities. For instance, the new rules call for the chartering of the University classes, by which means it would be possible to avoid conflicting dates, deficits, and so on.

Bryan Morse, Director of Student Activities, addressed the meeting and called attention to the fact that many students had failed to pay the first semester's installment of the Voluntary Tax. He pointed out that with the renewed impetus given to student activities by the creation of a separate department for their management, it was absolutely necessary that the funds subscribed be forthcoming to carry on the plans now laid out. Unless such monies are paid in, the student activity department will face a considerable deficit, it was pointed out.

The council also considered the possibility of erecting a Union Building, to be used as a combined gymnasium, theater, assembly hall and dormitory. Especial attention was given to means whereby a greater number of tax signers might be secured for the coming year.

G. W. MEDICAL SOCIETY HOLDS FEBRUARY MEETING

The February meeting of the George Washington University Medical Society was held last Saturday, the 19th, in the Medical School. The first speaker, Dr. E. G. Seibert, addressed the society in a short talk on "Recent Developments in Otology," wherein he demonstrated the growing importance of this science in Army medical examinations and its use in detecting various diseases. The society then proceeded with the business on hand. Reports of several committees were made, and the applications of five candidates for membership were voted upon.

Following this was an interesting paper on "Roentgen Control of Uterine Bleeding," by Dr. Thomas A. Groover.

Dr. E. A. Merritt next gave a report of one of his cases in his paper, "Possibilities of Intra-Vaginal Treatment by Means of X-ray." This report showed the introduction of several novel features, especially the use of unfitted rays to remove objectionable tissue.

The scheduled case report of Dr. Foley, "Astragelotomy in a Case of Talipes Equinus," unfortunately could not be given, as his patient had been quarantined. In place of this, Dr. Randolph presented a pathological specimen in typhoid fever.

As the scientific program had consumed more than the expected time, the society adjourned without any further social functions.

EXTRA COPIES OF CHERRY TREE ANNUAL ON SALE

The business manager of the 1921 Cherry Tree, C. Walter Parker, is conducting a subscription campaign for the Annual, with the hope of surpassing all previous subscription records. This is a chance for non-signers of the Activity Tax to secure copies of the G. W. year book and for signers to secure extra copies. The Cherry Tree will cost $5, $2 payable at the time of subscription.

Subscription blanks may be obtained from C. Walter Parker, John G. Ladd or Miss Bischoff, of the Law School. Any student or organization turning in subscriptions will receive 5 per cent of the total amount collected. A prize is to be given to the student or organization obtaining the greatest number of subscriptions.

PRESENT DEGREES DURING CENTENNIAL

Sixty Receive Degrees at Convocation
Held During Centennial Celebration.

On February 22 the George Washington University celebrated its Centennial convocation in the auditorium of the Central High School. More than 140 schools and colleges of not only this but of foreign countries were represented when the president of the University, William Miller Collier, opened the convocation. The entire auditorium was filled when the academic procession entered, and as soon as it was fairly within the doors the audience arose and remained standing until the prayer commencing the ceremonies was completed.

Previous to the entrance of the academic procession an orchestra under the direction of Mr. Sol Minster rendered several selections, the first an overture of national airs, the second a selection of Henry VIII dances, and the third, "Stars and Stripes Forever," was played as the procession entered the hall. As the last of the procession reached the stage, President Collier asked Rev. Prof. Robert Hastings Nichols, Ph. D., of Auburn Theological Seminary, to offer the invocation. When the prayer was completed, President Collier was presented with a gavel made from the wood of a house which once stood in Washington and in which it is said that every President of the United States from John Adams to Roosevelt had visited. It was with this gavel that the president struck the stand, thus formally opening the convocation.

President Collier then introduced Prof. Charles Alexander Richmond, D. D., LL. D., of Union College, who made the subject of his address "Education and American Democracy." In his address Prof. Richmond told of the need of America to profit by the example set the world by Germany, and to not carry its educational program forward solely with the purpose in view of making itself the commercial master of the world, but rather to so guide and direct the youth of the nation that they in the future might further the aims of peace which have in the past been ever before the nation.

When the convocation address was finished President Collier introduced William Bruce King, A. M., LL. M., a member of the Board of Trustees, who gave the commemorative address, in which he told of the early history of the University, of its struggles for financial advancement, read extracts from the rules governing the conduct of pupils, and in general presented a picture of the University as it had been during the past hundred years. Mr. King finished his address with an appeal for financial support for the University in order that more and better work might be carried on in the future.

President Collier then presented, with the assistance of Dean Wilbur, of Columbian College; Dean Ruediger, of Teachers' College; Dean Borden, of the Medical School; Dean Ferson, of the Law School, and Dean Henning, of the School of Graduate Studies, diplomas to the graduates from each college, after which he made brief remarks, advising them as to their new responsibilities and offering them sound advice on their relation to the world.

Upon concluding his remarks, the president then conferred honorary degrees upon 27 distinguished visitors, and after the "Star-Spangled Banner" had been played and Dr. Nichols had pronounced a benediction, the academic procession left the hall, the audience remaining standing until the procession had left the hall.

Those receiving the degree of bachelor of arts from Columbian College were: Donald George Coleman, Kans.; Thomas Francis Farrell, Mass.; Alys Millsats Goforth, La.; Arthur Jackson Gronna, N. Dak.; Lewis Irving Harrison, Conn.; Daniel Luther Halderman, Pa.; Everett Albert Hellmuth, Va.; Frank Oscar Lundstrom, Colo.; Albert Joseph Mottern, Ohio (with distinction); James Byrne Ranck, D. C. (with distinction); Ralph S. Scott, Md.; George Shisler, W. Va.; Sherwood Page Van Waters, N. Y.; Jessie Mary Wolcott, Iowa.

Those receiving the degree of bachelor of arts and bachelor's diploma in education from the Teachers' College were Margaret Jane Edie, N. Y.; Marie Ada Thompson, Miss.; Margaret Josepha Bashford, Va.

Julian Menzo Howe, District of Columbia, received the degree of doctor of medicine from the Medical School.

WASHINGTON, D. C. . . . FEBRUARY 25, 1921

The trustees of George Washington are not ready to erect a gymnasium for the University, but a better plan has been presented by the "Hoya," the Georgetown paper. The "Hoya" plan of a national athletic auditorium is a worthy one, because it would give to the local universities an equal chance for developing intercollegiate athletics and also enable the nation to entertain its athletic guests suitably. The gymnasium problem does not confront the local colleges alone. Numerous colleges throughout the country are either planning or building gymnasiums or stadiums. The money is being raised in various ways, some of which could be successfully employed in the erection of a George Washington University gymnasium. A gymnasium of our own would be excellent, but as its immediate erection seems impossible, it seems most advisable, if not necessary, for the local institutions to cooperate in securing appropriations from Congress for the erection of a national athletic auditorium. —E. ## FRATERNITY BASKETBALL

Before a crowd of 250 persons, Theta Delta Chi defeated Kappa Sigma, 17 to 14, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon won from Phi Sigma Kappa, 33 to 4. All of this occurred at the Epiphany gym on February 17.

Kappa Sigma fought hard for the first game and was nosed out in the last three minutes of play, when Wright and Vidmer, of Theta Delta Chi, each got a basket, putting their team in the lead. Had Kappa Sigma won, all four teams in League "A" would have been tied, with one game won and one lost. The result of the contest puts Kappa Sigma out of the race and gives to the Theta Delt a commanding lead. Kappa Sigma had everything to gain and from the first fought fiercely, but played clean basketball. Hawley, of Kappa Sigma, gave another exhibition of football tactics used in basketball, much to the amusement of the spectators. On one occasion he ran the length of the floor with the basket ball, making his "ten yards," but causing a foul to be called against his team. At the end of ten minutes of play, Theta Delta woke up with the score 10 to 4 against them. From that time on, however, until the end of the game, Kappa Sigma was able to get only one goal from the floor.

The score of the P. S. K. S. A. E. match tells the whole story. It was a walk-away for S. A. E., although the Phi Sigs put up a hard fight. Stephens, of S. A. E., led in goal shooting, with eight to his credit. Pease made five goals, and McAlister made four. For Phi Sigma Kappa, Jackson made four goals from foul.

FRESHMEN DOWNED

BY A. & N. PREP, 19—12

Brown's Floor Work Features for Frosh—A. & N. Play Fast Game.

In the preliminary contest the freshmen were defeated for the second time this season by the fast Army and Navy Prep team. The game was staged as a preliminary contest to the George Washington-Georgetown game on Saturday evening, February 19, at Central Coliseum, Ninth and Pennsylvania avenue. The final result was 19—12.

The prep boys had a fast passing game and were fairly accurate in shooting baskets from the floor. Wise and Shapley did all the caging work for the preps, amassing 8 floor goals between them, while the combined efforts of Brown, Birmingham and Wood, for the Hatchettes, netted only 4 baskets. Brown played a good defensive game in the first half, keeping Wise from scoring but once. In the second half Brown's defensive work suffered a relapse, as Wise got away with 4 baskets, but Brown made up for this by annexing 2 baskets in this period. Goldstein and Bob Newby put up a very creditable game in the back court, breaking up many plays, and with a little more accurate shooting the frosh would have annexed the game. "I smiled—and he shot me"

AFTER MONTHS and months

MY WIFE persuaded me.

TO HAVE it done.

SO I went around.

TO THE photographer.

AND GOT mugged.

WHEN THE pictures came.

I SHOWED them to a gang.

OF AMATEUR art critics.

AND PROFESSIONAL crabs.

DISGUISED AS friends.

WHO FAVORED me.

WITH SUCH remarks as.

"DOESN'T HE look natural?"

"HAS IT got a tail?"

"A GREAT resemblance."

AND THAT last one.

MADE ME sore.

SO WHEN friend wife.

ADDED HER howl.

I TRIED again.

THIS TIME they were great.

FOR HERE'S what happened.

THE PHOTOGRAPHER said.

"LOOK THIS way, please."

AND HELD up something.

AS HE pushed the button.

AND NO-one could help.

BUT LOOK pleasant.

FOR WHAT he held up.

WAS A nice full pack.

OF THE cigarettes.

THAT SATISFY.
